

An existential birthday party at Recess

By Time Out Art Wed Jan 27 2010

You're invited to an existential birthday party as part of Sophy Naess's participatory art project and course, The Artist at Work, currently being held every Wednesday night at Recess from 6 to 9pm. Based on an Albert Camus's short story of the same name, in which an artist becomes plagued by his own audience, Naess's latest piece is a video adaptation whose props, costumes, paintings and characters are all created by those who show up to help. Drop by this week at 6pm to be a part of the film shoot and celebration, where "birthday wishes are sung, cake is served, champagne uncorked, and gossip gushed by eager critics and art world enthusiasts." The course is free and open to the public.—Sarah Lerner
